

The SHARE Foundation & Quality of Life Institute

Present: FALLSUMMIT 2018

Fall Series: Strengthening the Family

Three 2-Hour Workshops (Thursdays, 6-8 pm) will discuss meaningful opportunities for learning and growing together, expanding from a foundation of Gentle Teaching

Our goal is to share resources with those involved with children and their families and communities, promoting health, well-being and quality of life.

Workshops will identify the key purpose for cultivating a child's engagement and their involvement in the community. This nurtures their learning and helps children think well of themselves and believe in their own future. Meaningful opportunities build resilience and develop one's sense of self-worth, as does being challenged to think about ethics, values and personal responsibility.

The Fall Series will provide participants with "tools" for assessing a child's environment and for creating the invitation for engaging the child in "table dialogue." This style of interaction creates "growing room" for listening and learning, changing our lens so we can perceive the possibilities for meaningful connections to be made.

OCTOBER 18

Changing the Lens

6-8pm

Learn how to view behaviors with a new lens that provides a new point of reference; one that places meaning and value for assessing one's "lagging skills," and addresses challenges of the "unsolved problem."

NOVEMBER 15

3 E's

6-8pm

1. expressive language
2. emotions
3. engine

What we need to understand about one's engine, emotions, and expressive language.

DECEMBER 20

Creating Teachable Moments

6-8pm
